

pierre

32, Athlete

Hometown: Lisbon, Portugal

USER PERSONA

“I love running because it gives me a sense of achievement.”

ABOUT

Pierre is a doctor who thrives on the excitement of running and the benefits it brings. He has found passion for running as a way to maintain fitness and promote mental well-being. Pierre runs at least three times a week, and he enjoys running with friends and peers.

Pierre has taken part in a couple of races and is looking forward to challenging himself by taking part in more races in the future.

GOALS

- To participate in the London Marathon.
- To improve physical and mental fitness.
- To implement better training methods.

HABITS

- Hydrating after running or racing.
- Running with friends or peers.
- Runs several times a week.

FRUSTRATIONS

- Poor preparation before going for races.
- Difficulty managing hydration.
- Physical discomfort during running